

District Liaisons

A District Liaison is someone you should know! They will keep you informed of conference activities, provide information about key initiatives within the conference and be your “go to” person for everything that is happening in Women Ministries of the Evangelical Covenant Church. They are there to help you connect to the denomination and if they don’t know the answer, they know who does!

Who is your District Liaison? The churches of the Central Conference include 113 congregations in five states and have a combined membership of over 17,000 people. That’s a lot of people to connect with! How do we do that? Well, there is a system in place that we want you to know about. There are eleven districts in Central Conference. Knowing that women love to know what’s going on, each district has a “District Liaison” that is responsible for getting information to the women in the churches in her district. This includes details about WMCC upcoming events, retreats, mission projects and special gatherings. Your District Liaison also wants to hear about what you are doing and how you are serving in your local church. Do you know what district YOUR church is in? Do you know WHO your District Liaison is? Find out more about how YOU and YOUR church can stay connected with the Conference by contacting your District Liaison- or, call Jan Coleman at (815) 436-1809 to get in contact with your District Liaison.

Call your DL today and make the connection!!!!
